Sir:

I, Reinder LH Bolhuis, declare as follows: _____

1. I am a senior author of a publication, Weijtens et al., J of Immunology 157: 836-43 (1996). I am the author to whom all correspondence about the publication was to be addressed.

2. I understand that a hybridoma cell producing G250 monoclonal antibody was mentioned in the publication. However, the hybridoma cell was not released to anyone other than the team members who were under my control and supervision.

3. In fact, the hybridoma cell used and described in my publication was received from Prof. Sven Warnaar under confidentiality agreements that strictly restricted the use, disclosure and distribution thereof to the approval by Prof. Warnaar. I was obligated not to let the hybridoma cell nor any vectors containing G250 specific DNA to be made available to anybody other than my research team, and I did not do so.
